Fuel Supplies - Record of Fuel Embarked and general comments

Paris Arsenal:

There is no fuel dock in the Bassin de l'Arsenal but there is a garage conveniently located on the road opposite the Capitainerie at the

Chateaux Thierry:

There is a garage about 100m from the Halte Nautique in Chateaux Thierry, although the Esso fuel is rather more expensive than at French supermarkets, if you can find them close to the water.

Épernay:

Stop alongside the large Carrefour just before the bridge, which is just before arrival at the Halte Nautique. Low price diesel can be obtained just across the road and carried to the boat by jerry-can.

Chaumont:

There is a E.Leclerc supermarket about 2-3 kms from the Port de la Maladière at Chaumont depending on which route taken to get there - If humping fuel from E.Leclerc, go over the bridge, keep on the main road and turn right at the traffic lights. This brings you direct to the filling station about 2 km from the boat.

Saint Jean-de-Losne:

There is a fuel barge close to the entrance of the Port de Plaisance. Go alongside and top up from a hose (at higher prices than the local supermarkets) - €0.98 per litre.

Chalon sur Saône:

There is a fuel berth in the Port de Plaisance. Go alongside and top up from a hose, UK style! The price is rising - this time €1.05 per litre whilst the supermarkets remain at about €0.85 per litre if you fancy the walk and messy job of filling from a can for the sake of a few cents per litre saved. The Port de Plaisance at Chalon sur Saône is an expensive place anyway, so fuel at over €1 per litre may not

Port de Plaisance de 'Epervier Valance:

There is a fuel berth at this Port de Plaisance close to Valence. Go alongside and top up from a hose, UK style! Watch out however

La Rague Marina - Golfe De La Napoule:

The fuelling station is located just inside the entrance to a large marina, but with plenty of space to turn into the well-sheltered

Torre de Greco - Golfo Di Napoli:

Miserable staff and high prices. They even charged us €7 for about 30 litres of water! If you can avoid this fuel stop it is recommendation that you do. It is a dirty place and not at all appealing.

Croatia:

Fuel always obtained from marina fuel docks and was of good quality. Prices are generally high - about the same as in UK.

Greece:

Fuel is always supplied by mini road tanker. The service is good and the fuel clean. Prices vary but are generally a little less than UK street prices.
